LIBERALS HAVE A DECIDED LEAD

NO DOUBT OVER OUTCOME OF ENGLISH ELECTIONS NOW.

UNIONISTS GAINED, THOUGH

Took Away Several Seats from the Government Forces in Closely Contested Districts.

London, Jan. 19.—There is no doubt now that the Liberals will have a working majority in the next House of Commons as the results of the elections thus far held show their strength.

The Unionists had decidedly the better of the elections held yesterday. Of forty-four seats contested they won 21, of which 12 were represented by Unionists in the last parliament.

Fourteen of the London boroughs returned eight Liberals and six Unionists, as compared with eleven Liberals and three Unionists in the last parliament. The Unionist gains include Southwark West, Mile End, a division of Tower Hamlets, where H. L. Law, manager of the Daily Telegraph, was elected; How and Bromley, Chelsea, one division of Liverpool, White Haven, Boston, Warwick and Leamington, Kidderminster, Coventry and two seats in Brighton. Most of those were Unionist before the great Liberal victory of 1906, and are returning to the conservative fold.

Loss Is Severe
While there were not so many contests Tuesday as on Saturday and Monday, there were more prominent politicians with fortunes at stake. Two of these, Col. J. E. H. Seeley, under secretary for the colonies, and R. K. Canston, paymaster general, lost their seats for the Abchurchhampton division of Liverpool and Southwark West, respectively. The loss of Col. Seeley was especially severe for the government, as he had been the spokesman in the House of Commons for the colonies office and was one of the younger men in line for promotion.

Three members of the cabinet, Winston Spencer Churchill, president of the board of trade, Charles Dutton, postmaster general, and Walter Runciman, president of the board of education, retained their seats. Mr. Churchill, with his labor colleague, A. White, increasing the majority usually given by Dundee substantially. Sir W. S. Robson, the attorney general, also held his old seat for South Shields.

T. P. O'Connor's grip on the Scotland division of Liverpool was proved by the increase of 500 which he received over his big majority of four years ago.

Prominent Men Returned
On the other side, among the prominent men who go back to Westminster are "The Right Hon. A. Lyttelton for St. George's Hanover square; John S. Harcourt, member for the Liverpool division of Liverpool; H. L. Lawson, son of Lord Burnham, who captured the Mile End seat, which he held before 1906 and which he once occupied as a Liberal; J. K. Foster, a prominent writer on fiscal questions, who won against Sir John Lubbock, the novelist, in Coventry, which was previously represented by another literary man, A. E. W. Mason, who retired from parliament at the beginning of the year.

With the exception of North England, Scotland, and the big manufacturing towns, the result at the polls shows a steady trend toward the fiscal policy of the Unionists, but calculating returns thus far announced, the political scales maintain that the Liberals are insufficient to overcome the big Liberal majority obtained in 1906.

A conservative estimate now places the Liberal-Labor party majority over the Unionists at between 80 and 90. This, with a compact party, would be a working majority, but with the unreliable Laborers, backed up by the Irish when it suited them, the government would have to go warily to avoid pitfalls.

WINS LEGAL FIGHT FOR AN ACCOUNTING

Grandson of Late Daniel Wells Gains
Important Court Decision.

Millwaukee, Wis., Jan. 19.—Daniel Wells, Jr., grandson of the late Daniel Wells, Jr., who has been the executor of the estate of his grandfather, has won a legal fight to secure the estate of the corporation of the Wells estate by a decision just handed down by Judge Ludwig.

Several large corporations in the northern part of the state are owned by the estate. By the will of Mr. Wells, the grandson is entitled to a share in their earnings. All of them are controlled by trustees of the Wells estate. No dividends have been declared during the last few years and Mr. Wells complained that dividends ought to be declared and he be given his share of them.

Judge Ludwig says: "It seems clear to me that when the trustees report is attacked, it is to be developed upon them to explain the entire situation and the reason for want of income where income is usually expected. The burden to explain is upon them."

The undivided profits of the corporations amounted to hundreds of thousands of dollars, according to the complaint.

HE'S GOING "DO SOMETHING"

Is Not Looking for Second Term—Bullinger-Pinchot Investigation Is Matter for Which He Will Be Responsible to Country.

Washington, Jan. 19.—President Taft has given an ultimatum which bids defiance to his foes and to his too solicitous friends, and which states that while he is president he is going to "do something." He stated that he was not looking for a second term, which was an indifferent matter to him.

Must Carry Out Pledges.
That something, the president made clear to "regular" and "insurgent" Republicans, is to carry out the pledges of the Republican party, and his test of Republicanism will be a vote for those measures that he regards as pledged by the party in the party platform in the last campaign.

The limitation of the use of the injunction power by the federal courts. The enactment of amendments to the railway rate law, and those to the laws which regulate interstate commerce.

The establishment of a system of postal savings banks.
Separate statehood for Arizona and New Mexico.

Questions Are Debatable.

The president mentioned two important bits of legislation as debatable and consequently no test of Republicanism. He submitted that these two matters were questions on which there could be reasonable differences of opinion. These he mentioned as:
Conservation of natural resources.
A federal incorporation act.

Representatives Hayes of California, Murdock of Kansas and Gardner of Massachusetts got this information in a conference with the president. He also informed them that the investigation of the Bullinger-Pinchot controversy is a matter for which he will be responsible to the country. He declared that he will regard Republicans who vote with the Democrats to retain Representatives Bailey and James as the minority members of the investigating committee as in direct opposition to him and to his administration.

ENDING OF COAL TRUST ASKED.

Government Brief Recites Charges Against Anthracite Combine.

Philadelphia, Jan. 19.—The government's brief in its suit to break up the alleged anthracite coal trust was filed in the United States circuit court by William S. Gregg, special assistant to the attorney general. The suit was brought in April, 1907.

The government contends that all the defendant railroad and coal companies have been parties to a general combination and conspiracy which stifles competition and obstructs trade and commerce among the states in anthracite coal.

The brief asks the court to restrain and enjoin the alleged monopoly and to further enjoin the defendants from carrying out a contract with the so-called independent companies by which the latter turn over their product to the larger companies for 65 per cent of the tidewater selling price.

The government contends the antitrust act was violated in the taking over of stock of certain companies by other corporations.

THOUSANDS DRIVEN FROM HOME

Warned by Government Ice Gorge Will Surely Break.

Pittsburg, Pa., Jan. 19.—It is estimated that 4,000 families in the lower Allegheny river valley and on the lower north side of Pittsburg left their homes for the night when warned by the United States weather bureau about the ice gorge at Freeport, about thirty miles above Pittsburg, would surely break.

For many weeks this gorge has been a menace to the lower river residents and dynamite used by the government authorities some weeks since on the ice failed to move it out. It is one of the biggest and most dangerous gorges that the river has had in decades.

1,500 Colliery Employees Strike.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Jan. 19.—All of the 1,500 men and boys employed at the South Wilkesbarre colliery of the Lehigh and Wilkesbarre Coal Company went on strike because the company refused to appoint a check weighman. This official would be paid by the men and would see that they are not unfairly docked.

Cupid Floats on Light Biscuits.

South Bend, Ind., Jan. 19.—Biscuits baked by Miss Elizabeth Hanson, a cooking demonstrator of Elgin, Ill., were eaten by William J. Howell, a traveling salesman of Chicago, who strolled into the cooking show. As a result he lost his heart to Miss Hanson. Howell came back and married her.

Paper Currency Preferred.

The gold dollar in the United States has practically gone out of circulation and now it is rumored that the silver dollar is likely to follow it, at least to some extent, into its innocuous desuetude. The reason for this seems to be simply that the government has ceased its practice of paying the expressage on shipments of silver dollars. Banks, therefore, prefer the currency, which is so much lighter, and in many sections of the country in greater demand at their windows.

NORTHERN PACIFIC TRAIN IS WRECKED; 14 HURT

West-Bound Passenger Train Jumps Track Near Salem, N. D.—Every Car Derailed.

New Salem, N. D., Jan. 19.—Fourteen persons were reported seriously injured when a Northern Pacific west-bound coast train left the track one mile and a half west of here last night and plied in the ditch.

Every car in the train was derailed and turned completely over. Two passengers and a member of the train crew fought their way back through the cold and deep snow to report the wreck. A train was immediately made up here, carrying three coaches, baggage car and caboose, with all the physicians in the city. The injured will be taken to Mandan and Bismarck, 33 miles east, and placed in the hospitals.

JUDICIARY AT WHITE HOUSE.

President and Mrs. Taft Held Second of State Receptions.

Washington, Jan. 19.—The second of the state receptions was held at the White House last night in honor of the judiciary of the United States. A unique feature of the reception was the presence there of the governors of the states who are in Washington attending the governors' conference.

Mrs. Taft assisted the president in the reception for part of the evening and then retired and her place was taken by her sister, Mrs. Charles Anderson of Cincinnati. The only other persons in the receiving line were the members of the cabinet and their wives. After the justices were received the general reception began and upward of 1,500 guests were greeted.

FROZEN RIVER AIDS SMUGGLERS.

Chinamen Are Brought from Canada Over Ice-Covered Stream.

Detroit, Mich., Jan. 19.—Chinamen who gathered along the Canadian border in the early winter, at the behest of smuggling gangs, to await a chance to cross, are having easy access to the United States now, it is believed.

Below the city, Detroit river is frozen solid. Federal deputies are patrolling the American bank nights, but there are few of them, their territory being long and it is dark. Consequently smugglers have little difficulty eluding them.

CHARGE OF BRIBERY IS MADE.

Direct Accusation Against President Pro Tem of New York Senate.

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 19.—A direct charge of bribery was made against John P. Alda, president pro tem of the senate, by his colleague, Dean Conger, who represents the forty-first senatorial district.

Conger, who is serving his first term in the senate, charges in effect that he personally knows that Senator Alda accepted bribes while chairman of the ways and means committee of the assembly prior to 1905. Alda will demand an investigation.

CO-EDS LEARN CARE OF BABIES.

Classes in Child-Rearing Established in Missouri University.

Columbia, Mo., Jan. 19.—Classes in the care and rearing of children will be conducted for the co-eds in the home economics department of Missouri university. The new course was announced by Dr. Edna D. Day, head professor of that department. A day nursery is to be established to furnish the future mothers with laboratory work in child rearing. The girls will take care of babies left there during the day by mothers intent on shopping and social duties.

SLAYS "AFFINITY'S" HUSBAND.

James Humphrey Is Held for Murder of James Hatcher.

Trouton, Mo., Jan. 19.—James Humphrey, a wealthy young widower, connected with the most prominent families in this section, was held by the coroner's jury for the murder last Friday night of James Hatcher, an aged citizen, after Hatcher's wife, much younger than Hatcher, had broken down and confessed on the witness stand here that Humphrey was her husband's rival for her affections. She has five children, one an infant.

Wisconsin Electrical Men Meet.

Milwaukee, Jan. 19.—The first annual convention of the Wisconsin Electrical association opened today at the Pfister hotel with an attendance that assures the most successful meeting of the kind ever held in the state. The association was formed last summer by an amalgamation of the Northwestern Electrical and Wisconsin Electrical and Interurban Railway associations. Perhaps the most interesting feature of the program is a paper and discussion on the state railroad commission and its rulings. Ernest Gienzenbach of Sheboygan is the president.

Burn Spoils of Gambling Raid.

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 19.—A heap of ashes representing nearly $100,000 worth of gambling paraphernalia, the product of police raids for many years, lies on the grounds of the Albany prison. The stuff was burned last night by direction of the district attorney.

Held on Charge of Embezzlement.

Home Life Above All.

Home life is at the root of the nation's well-being.

WOMAN DRIVES FIVE DAYS TO AID TOWN

Deserted by Workmen and College Professor—She Forces Mule Team Forward.

San Bernardino, Cal., Jan. 19.—Mrs. J. O. McIntosh of Los Angeles, who proved herself a heroine, she having driven a four-mule team from Mapa, Nov., to Caliente, for five days and nights in the bitter zero weather in order to reach the storm-swept town and give aid to the stricken people.

News of Mrs. McIntosh's thrilling journey reached here last night. When telegraphic communication with Caliente went out, the plucky woman harnessed her mules and set forth taking two workmen and a college professor. Nine miles out of Mapa, a glimpse of Rainbow canyon, strewn with wreckage was had. The men gave up and tramped back to Mapa.

For five days and nights the woman drove through the flooded country, at times being forced to travel for hours in the very bed of the canyon. The temperature was below zero and nights were passed by driftwood fires to keep from freezing. Two days out she saved the Mexicans who, for many days helpless in a Salt Lake bank house, were carried down stream.

Reaching Caliente faint from cold and hunger, Mrs. McIntosh found the town badly damaged, provisions low and kerosene practically gone. She helped repair the telegraph line and sent out the first message of the disaster.

CALLS CONSERVATION CONGRESS

St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 19.—The first Minnesota conservation and agricultural congress is called to meet in St. Paul March 16, 17, 18 and 19, and promises to be one of the biggest events in the northwest in recent years. The call was issued today by Gov. A. O. Eberhart, who in his proclamation states the general object of the congress to be: "To determine by a congress of representative men, interested in all lines of business and social endeavor, what the resources of this state are and how the rapid and intelligent development of Minnesota may best be assisted."

The objects to be considered are: "The development of unused lands; conservation of soil fertility of lands now under cultivation; increase of production per acre on the farm; careful handling of mineral resources to eliminate waste; preservation and perpetuation of the forests; scientific drainage of swamp lands; improvement of public roads; extension of industrial and agricultural education; study of the practicability of water power and the continuance of the best sanitary conditions to insure public health."

SLAYER SPURNS FORGIVENESS.

Victim's Mother and Sister's Offer to Forgive Is Rejected.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Jan. 19.—Mrs. Susan Lee, a Dowlette, of Zion City, Ill., and her daughter came here to forgive George L. Marlon, the New York theatrical man, who it is alleged, murdered her daughter here last August, but she was spurned by Marlon who declined to pay any attention to her. Mrs. Lee as a Dowlette believes in forgiving those who have wronged her. When Marlon was brought into court she advanced, extended her hand and murmured that she had come to tell him she forgave him. Marlon ignored her and turned away and then her daughter, Miss Grace Lee, also extended her hand. "We forgive you and have come to help you," she said. Marlon turned away exclaiming "I don't know who you are."

BALANCED NUTRITION FOODS.

Few foods, except milk, contain all the elements of nutrition in the proportion needed to maintain perfect health, and milk not for the adult. Wheat, bananas, corn, rye, oats, dates, figs, rice (unpolished), flesh, grapes, fish, barley, beans; these contain all the elements of nutrition, in almost ideal proportion, except that the fruits contain, perhaps, not enough albumen, except for the old. We say "perhaps," because experiments are showing that the old standard rations were too high in albumen. Bread—wheat or rye—supports life indefinitely. Hundreds of Arabs live for months together, doing an average day's labor, on dates only. Thousands of laborers live on rice only. The siege of Paris was done on rye bread. The Scotch alms was built of oatmeal and barley. The Japanese have won their place without meat.

Value of Black Locust.
The tree that gives the best results with little care after planting is the black locust. It does well on any soil, wet or dry. It is a quick grower and when planted thick—say six feet each way—the trees will grow tall with but little top, and will at the end of five years be ready for the first thinning out.

Cultivate Only Good Ones.
A habit is easily born, but hard to kill.

DISTRESS FROM A BAD STOMACH GAS AND INDIGESTION WILL END

Your Out-of-Order Stomach Feels Fine Five Minutes After Taking a Little Diapiesin.

Take your sour, out-of-order stomach—or maybe you call it indigestion, dyspepsia, gastritis or Catarrh of Stomach? It doesn't matter—take your stomach trouble right with you to your Pharmacist and ask him to open a 50-cent case of Diapiesin and let you eat one 22-grain Triangles and see if within five minutes there is left any trace of your former misery.

The correct name for your trouble is Food Fermentation—food souring; the Digestive organs become weak, there is lack of gastric juice; your food is only half digested, and you become affected with loss of appetite, pressure and fullness after eating, vomiting, nausea, heartburn, griping in bowels, tenderness in the pit of stomach, bad taste in mouth, constipation, pain in or about stomach, belching of gas, biliousness, sick headache, nervousness, dizziness or many other similar symptoms. If your appetite is feeble, and nothing tempts you, or you belch gas or if you feel bloated after eating, or your food lies like a lump of lead on your stomach, you can make up your mind that at the bottom of all this there is but one cause—fermentation of undigested food.

Prove to yourself in five minutes that your stomach is as good as any; that there is nothing really wrong. Stop this fermentation and begin eating what you want without fear of discomfort or misery.

Almost instant relief is waiting for you. It is merely a matter of how soon you take a little Diapiesin.

Typical westerner for Chief Forrester. Seth Bullock, as he appears to Artist Drake.

Washington, D. C.—While A. P. Potter is in active charge of the department recently vacated by Chief Forrester Pynchot and is likely to be made permanent head a rumor is out that Seth Bullock may be asked to take charge of the work. Bullock is a typical westerner. He hails from Deadwood, S. D., and while he drops his "cow boy" but here in Washington he is nevertheless western in spirit and heart and stands for anything that is going to help the west.

Twelfth Century Pottery.

At the museum at Innsbruck, in Austria, there has been for a number of years a place of pottery in the form of a basin, which experts were unable to locate as to age. It has now been determined that it was made in the twelfth century, and the great bowl is remarkable more for the design which it bears on the inner side than for its age. It shows Alexander the Great riding in an albatross, which is propelled by griffins. Alexander stands holding with a great rod food over the heads of the griffins.

See the girl upon the slide! Oh, it's glorious to toboggan! Let us hope she will not fall. For 'twould crack her pretty noggin.

How she's dashing down the hill! Oh, it's glorious to be sliding! Let us hope she won't upset. For she'd want to go in hiding.

CHOOSING A VOCATION

The problem which confronts every thoughtful young man when preparing for the work of life is the choice of a vocation. The home and the school may render some assistance, or through indifference and lack of wisdom may be a hindrance.

Many men make a failure of life because their energies are expended in channels of work for which they have no adaptability and the fatal error was made in drifting into a vocation at the outset. To help young men in finding a life work a vocation bureau has recently been established. A writer in McClure's has this to say about it:

"The effort of the vocation bureau is to remedy these conditions through expert counsel and guidance. The immediate means consist, first, in furnishing the young people with a knowledge of the requirements and conditions of success, the compensations, opportunities, and prospects in different lines of work; second, in guiding the candidate to a clear understanding of his own aptitudes, abilities, interests, resources, and limitations.

"Moreover, the officers of the vocation bureau must act as true counselors, reasoning patiently with the boy or girl on the practical relations between their personal qualities and those objective conditions of the social fabric. Thus the goal of the bureau is to find for every one the occupation that is in fullest harmony with his nature and his ambitions and that will secure for him the greatest possible permanent interest and economic value. No doubt, much depends upon the wisdom and judgment, the sympathy and insight, of the counselor; and not every manager of such an institute will equal, in that respect, the founder of the first vocation bureau. Certainly, for such a task, thorough preparation is needed, and the equipment of a pioneer school for the training of vocational counselors was, therefore, necessarily the next step."

THE COST OF LIVING

The high cost of living is now the absorbing topic and all sorts of engines are being responsible. Congress will appoint a commission to investigate and when these wise lawmakers report we will know all about it and be no better off.

In the meantime the factory employees of Cleveland, Ohio, 5,000 strong, have taken up the most proposition, which is one of the most generous, and signed an agreement that they will not eat meat for 30 days.

This will affect the local dealers, but unless the workmen of the country join in the crusade the Kansas porker and domestic steer will continue to command top-notch prices.

If all the people of the country will adopt a vegetarian diet for a year the demand for meat would cease and the oversupply would soon bring prices down.

This is true concerning butter and eggs and many other things which contribute so largely to the cost of living.

If the men and women would decide to wear out their old clothes for a year it would affect the price of dry goods and clothing, but fortunately or unfortunately we are living in an age of prosperity where a policy of retrenchment is so unpopular that it will not be adopted.

Theories and explanations will not change the cost of living. Nothing but an era of hard times and enforced economy will check the pace at which the nation is traveling and which is largely responsible for the high pressure which everywhere exists.

The country is possessed with a mania to flock to the cities and as a result the large centers of population are crowded with able-bodied men out of employment half the time. Add to this class the multitude of young men in stores and offices working for a bare living, because of sharp competition, and the result is an army of non-producers.

The Chicago and North-Western road is now employing 400 of these men picked up in Chicago. The most of them were so destitute that they hadn't money enough to buy a meal and so poorly clad that they were unfit to work in the snow.

New York has 4,000 of these men, just now, at work on the streets, not living but subsisting from hand to mouth.

This army of able-bodied men belong in the country where they could contribute something as producers. Every last man of them could make an honest living if he could be shaken out of his environment and put to work. This is true of thousands of clerks who work for a pittance and who should never have left the farm. A Kansas City gardener demonstrated last year what could be done with one acre of ordinary land. By the rotation of crops he raised and sold for cash $1,700 worth of products, and said that the work represented the time of a man and boy in the morning and evening.

The product of the soil is in its infancy. The cost of living will come down where more of the consumers become producers, for then supply will exceed demand, and this is the only regulator of prices.

One of the latest fads is a scheme of old-age pensions, suggested by men whose principal ambition is to add in scattering the wealth of the country. The same old socialist doctrine of something for nothing. Men will continue to grow old and some of them will continue to be destitute when they reach the age limit, but a pension is charity except in the case of the soldier, where it is given in recognition of service and sacrifice. The broadest philanthropy is helping people to help themselves, and the highest order of common sense is in providing for the years of enforced idleness which confront every traveler as he approaches the end of the journey.

John Farson, one of the best known businessmen of Chicago, died suddenly at his home in Oak Park yesterday morning. Mr. Farson was a unique character and a constant surprise to his many friends, who loved the man for his genuine worth. Successful in business, large hearted and generous to a fault, he filled a place which will long be vacant, for he was an all-around man of many resources inspired by a heart which beat in sympathy with humanity.

John R. Walsh, at the age of 72, enters the federal prison at Leavenworth today on a five-year sentence, his crime was violating national banking laws. Walsh was for many years a prominent figure in Chicago and while his crime may not be condoned, many people will sympathize with him in his humiliation.

There were 240 murders in New York last year, and less than 50 arrests, with only 20 convictions. This is a fair sample of American law and justice. The city of London, twice as large as New York, had 24 murders and 22 convictions. The story points its own moral. There's something rotten in the police department.

Uncle Walt THE POET PHILOSOPHER

By WALT MASON
(Copyright, 1909, by George Mathew Adams.)

I come from dark and solemn places, the realms of mystery, where shadows broods upon the faces of both the land and sea. I come from grim and stony valleys, from the hills by sun or star, where death his weird bat-like wings flutters, and sends them near and far. From plains where night is always darkling, and days are void and dumb, I come to regions fair and sparkling—you ask me why I come? Is that the style of your poetesses, to put a question first? Through my native country's wilderness I'd hear no bug like that. Why do I come? O, goodness gracious! What business! What nerve! It really makes me quite pugnacious; such as I don't deserve, I might reply that I've arisen to make the tea man fatter and I might say that I've been driven, to help the coal man's trade; but I am most abjectly truthful, for all my ups and downs I wouldn't lie to get a booth full of flannel shirt collars. From midnight suns and pale auroras, I set me forth to roam, to hear what yams those dimmed explorers are telling of my home.

Women at Thirty.
Women begin to be socially tolerable at 30, and improve until the deepening of their consciousness is checked by the decay of their faculties. But they begin to be pretty much earlier than 30, and are indeed sometimes at their best in that respect long before their chattering is, apart from the illusions of sex, to be preferred in serious moments to the silent sympathy of an intelligent pet animal.—Shaw.

"Experience is a dear teacher, but gently she ain't the one the average schoolboy first falls in love with."

GET THE HABIT.

Cheer up! Do not worry. The word comes from "worgen," a Dutch word which means to throttle. Worry will throttle the best that is in you. It will choke out not only your happiness, but your usefulness.

Cheer up! A fretting disposition becomes a habit. And when you settle down into habitual discontent your life becomes hateful even to yourself.

Cheer up! How? As you do anything else—by practice! A hopeful disposition can be cultivated. Think pleasant thoughts. Look on the bright side of things. You can find the bright side by looking for it. Dwell on the good until you get the habit.

Cheer up! Do you say it is your "temperament" to be pessimistic? All the more reason, friend, why you should cultivate the habit that will overcome your natural disposition—if you were born that way, which is doubtful.

Cheer up! Can you do it? Yes, yes! It can be done scientifically and is being done by thousands. The law of the mind is just like the law of the body. By use, custom, practice, mental as well as physical habits are made.

Cheer up! There is infinitely more good in the world for you than evil. The Sanskrit word for "good" means that which exists. Evil, in Sanskrit, does not exist. It is only a fancy of the mind. There is a great truth in the Sanskrit view. Most of our ills are imaginary.

Cheer up! The good that is in the world will live forever. The evil must slowly disappear. You laugh a hundred—my, a thousand—times where you cry but once. Is it not so?

Cheer up! Try to see the good, think the good, feel the good, hope the good, practice the good, and good shall be your portion.

Cheer up!

OHIO BUTCHERS ARE IN A STATE OF PANIC

Meat "Boycott" Is Spreading—4,000 People Now Abstain from Eating Flesh.

Cleveland, O., Jan. 19.—The retail butchers of Cleveland are panic-stricken. The knowledge that 13,000 Cleveland shop workers have signed the "meat strike" pledge, whereby they promise to abstain from eating meat for 30 days and which means that 40,000 persons who indulge in meat eating are lost to them, the butchers acknowledge they are beginning to feel the effect of the "boycott" to a considerable degree.

A hastily called meeting of the Retail Meat Dealers' association, to which invitations were sent to retailers not members of the association, as well, was arranged and another day may see a cut in beef, pork and other flesh, as a result.

"No shops have closed as yet," declared A. S. Pickering, secretary of the dealers' organization, "but we will feel the strike."

Akron and Toledo joined in the circulation of petitions and preachers over the state announced sermons on the topic of high food prices for next Sunday. In Columbus, Representative Tidwell of Carroll county, offered a joint legislative resolution calling on all consumers in Ohio to fast for a week, so far as meat and other high priced articles of diet are concerned. Representative Calvey of Cuyahoga county, introduced a resolution calling on the national congress to suspend or repeal the Payne tariff duties on food articles the price of which it is believed is affected by monopolistic control.

WILLIAM P. SHERIDAN
"Man with camera eye" quits New York Police force.

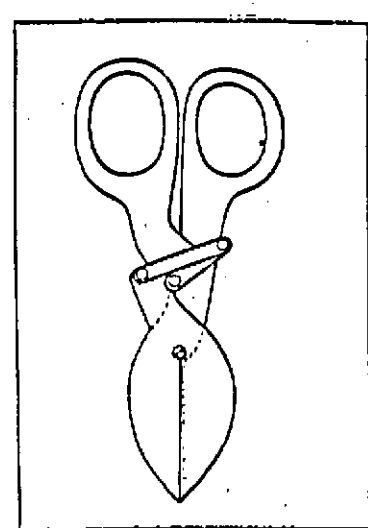

New York.—William P. Sheridan, who has just retired from the police department, had been connected with the force 23 years, and had achieved the rank of lieutenant. He is known among the police officers and criminals throughout the world as "the man with the camera eye," for the reason that he never forgets a face that he once has seen and carefully observed, and because of his faculty had identified many crooks who otherwise would have escaped. For the last 14 years he had been in charge of the "rogue's gallery" at department headquarters.

POWERFUL SHEARS

Combination Levers Add to Strength Behind the Cut.

A pair of cutting shears of unusual power has been invented by a Michigan man. They are shown in the illustration and the combination of levers by which the blades are operated is eloquent of the strength they add to the natural grip. The lower blade of the shears is stationary and the other is pivoted to it just at the back of the jaw. A lever is pivoted to the main blade above the point where the upper blade is fixed. A link member is pivoted at one end to the upper end of the shear blade.

HANDY FOR CUTTING METAL.

The link and lever members are also pivoted together so that when the shears are opened they open with a pressure which is comparatively slight pressure results in a powerful pressure on anything within the jaws of the implement. For cutting tin or other metal shears of this type are unusually effective and do not require the expenditure of anything like the same force needed in using ordinary shears for that purpose.

ELECTRIC MOUTH MIRROR

Enables Dentist or Doctor to Peer Into Difficult Places.

Electrically made so many difficult things easy that it is no wonder to find it used in exploring the human system. Where the dentist or doctor formerly had a hard time seeing just what was the matter with an aching tooth, this work is made simple by the electric mouth mirror, designed by a Connecticut man. This device is understood by one glance at the accompanying illustration, and its merits will be appreciated in the same glance. It consists of a long hollow handle, through which an electric wire runs to a tiny lamp, set in the socket just opposite the mirror. The battery is also in the handle, and the light is turned on or off by the pressing of a button. The mirror is bent to reflect the object outward. To examine a tooth far back in the head, for instance, the mirror is thrust under or behind the tooth and the light turned on. It can then be inspected as satisfactorily as if it lay on a table.

ELECTRIC MOUTH MIRROR.

Woman's Logic.
Mrs. Knockem—"Huh! I can't imagine how she dresses like that to what she earns."
Mr. Knockem—"How much does she earn?"
Mrs. Knockem—"How should I know? I don't know the woman."

HEALTH NOTES

Sodium Phosphate is a liver stimulant. It increases the flow or bile which is necessary to the proper digestion of food. It also stimulates bowel action. A good many forms of indigestion and constipation are promptly relieved by a few doses of Effervescent Sodium Phosphate taken before breakfast each morning. Jaundice or yellow skin, headaches, dizziness, sour stomach, and other complaints can be traced to the liver. Stimulate the liver and the trouble is gone. Sodium Phosphate that has always been sold at 50c a bottle for a few days we will sell at 25c a bottle. Get it today. Give it a trial. You will be much pleased.

One of Wisconsin's Mothers Who Always Keeps Peru-na in the House.

Mrs. Alvina Plamann.

If any one really wanted to find out whether or not Peru-na is good for the baby who would be naturally ask? Some one who never used Peru-na? Some one who is prejudiced against Peru-na? Some one actuated by selfish motives who is opposing Peru-na for the sake of the notoriety?

Who would they ask? They would ask mothers who have raised babies and used Peru-na for their babies times without number. They would ask the parents who love their families, and know more about Peru-na than all the professional writers in the world.

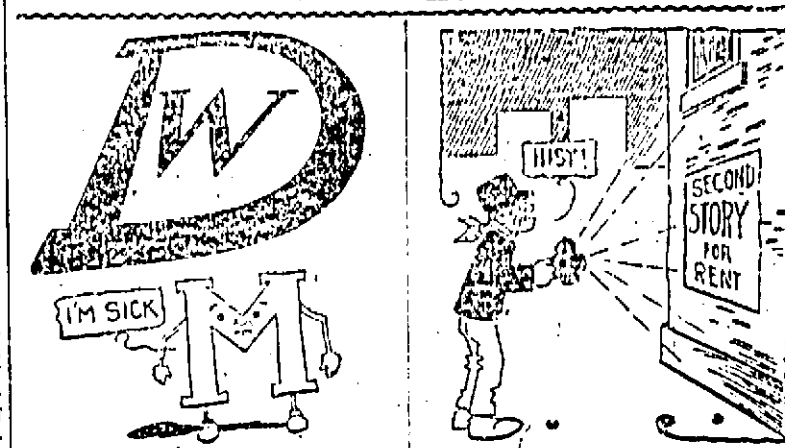

Also we give the portrait and testimonial of one of the mothers who has used Peru-na, and who has raised healthy and happy babies. We have many more such mothers in every state in the Union. These mothers give their testimonials entirely unasked, without pay or expectation of pay. Their only desire is to point out to other mothers a useful and reliable family medicine.

Ask Your Druggist for a Free Peru-na Almanac for 1910.

NON'S SCALP.
At the top on the left is Rep. Tawney of New York, on the right, Governor Cummins, and below Representative Mann of Illinois.

Davenport, Iowa.—Gov. Cummins of Iowa is taking the lead in the fight on "Uncle Joe" Cannon. He is no less conspicuous in this war than Representative Tawney of New York, and Representative Mann of Illinois. It is understood there is to be a secret meeting of insurgents in the near future and that these three striking figures of politics will take charge of the insurgent forces.

What study?
Thus Begin Each Day.
I will this day try to live a simple, sincere and serene life; repelling every thought of discontent, anxiety, discouragement, impurity, and self-seeking; cultivating cheerfulness, magnanimity, charity, self-control, and the habit of beautiful silence; exercising economy in expenditures; carefulness in conversation; diligence in appointed service and fidelity in every trust.—Bishop Vincent.

Always At It.
We sometimes wonder whether politicians ever do anything but keep their ears to the ground or mend their political fences or feel the public pulse.

Decision.
"When you goes lookin' for some one to help you decide sumthin'," said Uncle Eben, "remember dat it takes most as much smartsness to pick out reliable advice as it would to make up yoh own mind."—Washington Star.

After Seven Years

The other day a new patient came to my office.

"Dr. Richards," she said, "I am visiting in Janesville but I live in Canada. At home there is a family who lived here and had some work done by you before they moved to the Canadian North west seven years ago. They told me to be sure to come to you if I wanted good dentistry, for they had proved so."

Good work pays. It pays the owner and it pays the dentist who does it. Let me demonstrate my ability upon your teeth.

WATER COMPANY'S PAPERS ARE FILED WITH COMMISSION

HAS SURRENDERED ITS CHARTER FROM THE CITY OF JANESVILLE.

SETTLES ALL DISPUTES

Will Now Receive What is Practically a Perpetual Franchise From the State.

One of the most important steps in civic matters taken for many years was concluded today when the Janesville Water company surrendered to the state its charter received from the common council of Janesville in 1857 and asked in its place what may be termed a perpetual franchise and control by the state railway commission.

This move has been under consideration by the company for some time past and the final steps were taken today. It will mean that the local company will be directly under the control of the state railroad commission and that matters relating to the adjustment of water rates, both for private consumers and the city, will be adjusted by the commission. The company has held what might be termed a continuous contract with the city, these contracts running for five years at a stretch with the privilege of the city's buying the property at the end of each period. The city has the same right, that of purchase, under the state law, which will now govern matters, but it can not construct another system unless it is shown to be necessary.

It is possible that under the probable re-issuing of the company the consumers will be the gainers, but it is possible that the rate of $25 per hydrant charged the city will be increased to what other cities in the state pay.

ANNUAL ELECTION HELD BY POULTRY ASS'N LAST NIGHT

Date of Show Was Also Changed and Plans Made for the Exhibition in 1911.

Officers of the Southern Wisconsin Poultry association for 1910 were elected at a meeting of the organization last night in McVicar Bros. store. William McVicar was elected president; E. N. Fredendall, vice-president; F. J. Housner, secretary; and George L. Hatch, treasurer. J. D. Kling, Clarence Homans, Orville Morse, Edward Amerahl, Alex. Buchmann, M. J. McVicar, William McVicar, F. J. Holt and F. H. Kopp made up the board of directors.

In the hope that they might be able to dodge the bad weather that has cut down the attendance at the last two shows, it was decided to change the date of the 1911 exhibition to the third week in January.

From present indications, the show next year will even surpass those already held, as the merchants of the city have expressed their determination to aid the directors to the fullest extent. In view of the encouragement already given it is possible that the association will purchase coops for the next show instead of renting them as has been done in the past. This project will be brought up at a meeting of the directors to be held shortly.

BANQUET OF YOUNG LADIES' SOCIETY WAS HELD LAST EVENING

Sodality of St. Patrick's Church Feasted at Myers Hotel and Were Guests at Dance.

Last evening at the Myers hotel, the Young Ladies' Sodality of St. Patrick's church gave a banquet to the members and a number of invited guests. It was a most delightful affair and was enjoyed by one hundred and twenty-five of the young ladies. The feast was held in the dining room of the hotel the tables being beautifully decorated with carnations and fern leaves. Additional pleasure to the occasion was the music by the Knott & Hatch orchestra during the serving of the repast. These musicians also rendered several numbers on the program. A short program was given after the dinner, Miss Katherine Crowley acting as toastmistress and outlining the history of the sodality since its organization thirty years ago. The sodality now has one hundred and fifty-five members. Father James McElhinny, director of the sodality, delivered an address and Dean E. E. Kelly, and Father McCarthy of Fort Atkinson, and Father of Delavan, the special guests of honor, also spoke. Miss Agnes McElhinny, a sister of Fr. McElhinny, and Miss Josephine O'Hara, gave some pleasing vocal selections.

After the dance the young ladies were the guests of the "What Now" club at an enjoyable dance in East Side Old Fellows hall. A number of young men had been invited and about one hundred couples attended. Knott & Hatch's orchestra furnished the music for the dancing, which lasted until about one o'clock.

FOUR CASES DECIDED IN THE CIRCUIT COURT TODAY

Only Civil Cases Brought Before Judge Grimm for His Decision This Afternoon.

Four suits in circuit court were settled by Judge Grimm today. In the action of Lucy E. Rust et al vs. Everett Goss to acquire the title to the Evenson block, a judgment quieting the title was ordered. The judge filed an order sustaining the plaintiff's demurrer to the answer in the case of John E. Kennedy vs. James L. Kilmer and others. Emma C. Holgart was given a judgment of foreclosure against C. P. Horst et al. The suit of Edward Volozz against the Modern Woodmen of America was thrown out of court, the judge granting the motion of the attorneys for the defendant to set aside the service and summons of the complaint.

QUESTION OF CHILD LABOR WAS RAISED

Mother of "Baby May," Now Appearing at the "Lyric," Compelled to Secure a Permit.

When the mother of "Baby May," who is appearing in songs and dances at the "Lyric" theatre, learned that Trust Officer S. C. Burnham was inquiring into the case of her daughter, she became alarmed and sought out Judge Field to inquire if there was an ordinance against the little girl's appearing on the stage. She was told that although all children of school age were required to receive education instruction, a permit could be secured in which case the little actress would not be molested. This was done and today "Baby May" did her "turn" without molestation.

CAUSES DEBILITY.

Here are Facts Backed Up by a Strong Guarantee.

Catarrh causes debility. In our opinion, most people suffering from general debility have catarrh. Such cases of debility cannot be completely cured by medicine not designed to eradicate catarrh. In every case where our remedy fails to give entire satisfaction we will not charge a cent for the medicine employed during the trial. Now, surely no one should hesitate to believe us or to put our claim to a practical test under such conditions. We will take all the risk; no one else can lose anything by the transaction.

We make these statements and this offer because we know and have time and again proved that Rexall Mucin-Tone rarely fails to do us as we claim. It is not a cure-all prescribed to cure every disease that flesh is heir to. It is intended for one purpose, i. e., to cure catarrh by assuaging the diseased condition in a reasonable, scientific way, which is to employ agents that have been found to have the tonic and alterative power to correct faulty metabolism (irregular changes) and to stimulate and help nature overcome the cause or causes of catarrh. This best done, appetite increases, nutrition improves, weight is gained, comfort of body is attained and life's work taken up with the zest natural to the perfectly healthy individual.

We want you to try Rexall Mucin-Tone. Follow directions and take it regularly and consistently for a reasonable length of time. Then, if you are not satisfied, come back and tell us and the money you paid for the treatment will be returned without any argument whatever.

Rexall Mucin-Tone comes in two sizes, 50c and $1.00 a bottle. Sold only at our store.—The Rexall Store, The Smith Drug Co.

WOMAN'S PAGE

The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON

AFTER about five minutes of heartbroken wallings on the part of the two-year-old across the aisle the two-year-old's mother gave in and bought some chocolate for him with which he promptly began to plant the seeds of indigestion and more wallings.

"Cry hard enough and you'll get your way every time," murmured the rather cynical looking lady in the seat in front, "and that rule isn't limited to babies, either."

As the remark wasn't addressed to me I couldn't express my approval, but I mentally diffused it.

It certainly isn't limited to babies.

I know a great many pretty well-grown children, and some as full grown as they'll ever be, who get anything that those about them have it in their power to give, simply by applying that rule.

I know, for instance, a family of four girls, one of whom has three times what the other three have.

I heard her just the other day, after one of the others had been denied a certain luxury, boasting that she was sure she could get it.

I don't doubt it.

Because she is the best loved child? Not at all.

Because she knows the value of the rule—"Cry hard enough and you'll get your way."

In very many families there is some one member who applies that rule. Usually it is one of the children, but not always by any means. Sometimes it's a father and once in a while a mother.

And always the rest of the family gladly give up anything that one happens to want.

A splendid rule, you see.

Only—well, I'll leave you to supply that "only."

If you know a family where there is such a person you doubtless can do it.

"Believing it was her fate because a fortune teller told her she would marry a Chinaman, Grace W. Miller, twenty-four, married Charles Song, I read in a Pittsburg paper the other day.

I wish there could be a law to keep those people who believe in fortune tellers away from them.

I am usually a disbeliever in the saying:—

"Where ignorance is bliss 'tis folly to be wise."

But I think that in regard to a knowledge of the future it is extremely true, and as you never can tell whether ignorance is bliss or not it really isn't safe to risk the folly of being wise.

Fortune tellers are for those who do not believe in their powers.

If you believe a fortune teller can't tell you anything of the future and merely want to waste a dollar or two, by all means waste it. It is a harmless way.

As purveyors of Arabian Nights' tales to those who know how to rate them as such I believe in fortune tellers, but as reverers of the future to those who regard them as such, I think they are a menace to the happiness of the community, and I advise anyone who believes in them to keep a goodly distance away.

Mrs. Quinn's Philosophy

MRS. QUINN.

"Well, now, it's odd I am to see you this day," said Mrs. Quinn as I dropped in for a word on my way home from a hard day's work. All the poor are not like my Irish friend, kindly and uncomplaining, but their life makes their poor complaints.

"I've got some questions to be asking," ye, my dear. Mo nuld m'm's hin readin' this stuff about the hookworm in the paper and the man that wrote it said that it was a thing that got in the blood and made a man too tired to work. Now, what do ye think of that?"

"An' ye say there is such a thing? Well, now what will they discover next? The kids came home the other day and 'was atellin' me about another bug that they called back sitty. Sure it seemed silly all around to me, but they said its work was good and bad, and when I wanted to know how was we to tell that apart, sure they laughed and said nobody ever could see them."

"An' the germs, m'm, sure the body that was sent down from the society to see why I didn't come to the mothers' meetin' said that I should be holdin' the wather all the time, m'm, to kill the germs and when I said never was there an Irishman or woman either that was afraid of the Dutch, didn't she cough, delicate like, m'm, and explain it was another bug, m'm, and its name is germ, m'm, and it seems that poor folks are more apt to catch them than other folks."

"An' that's true, too, ye say. Well, the things they be findin' out, m'm, do be mortal queer. Me girl said that the reason the bread she made didn't rise right, as she was taught in the school's school was that the germs didn't work right, but it was the yeast that was bad. An' so we have bugs that work, and bugs that won't work, is that it, m'm?"

"Me old man come home and says he, 'Mollie,' says he, 'I have a fear that the hookworm is after me,' says he. 'I told the boss today that I felt mighty like work and he said he had noticed that I was showin' symptoms of the hookworm.' An' says I, 'Tommy,' says I, 'what folks all the hookworm in this house—I know the remedy,' says I, 'An' what he is,' says he. 'I'll starve it,' says I. 'So man with a hookworm should work,' says I, 'an' no hookworm should fatten and develope a man of his right to earn a livin', says I. 'And so ye had better get into bed and we'll go after that worm.' 'Without me supper?' says he, with a scart look in his eyes. 'Sure,' says I, 'the sooner that worm is dead the sooner we'll be able to eat,' says I. An' he sat there a bit with his head in his hands an' at last he said, slow and thinkin' like, 'Now Mollie, how would it be to try to overfeed him an' let him die of this indigestion,' says he, but 'No,' I says, 'the other way is cheaper and quicker, too, for many a poor man is a short time starvin' to death with a rich man takes a long time dyin' of indigestion,' says I. 'We'll starve him.' And with that m'm, I hustled the poor fella into bed and took up the supper for the kids. Tilled onions we had, m'm, and Tommy he that fatted up him. Well, in a bit he gave a yelp and sat up with his hand on his stomach, m'm, and says he, 'praise be, he's killt.' I felt him give the death squirm. Got me out as here before the kids ate up all the supper from a starvin' man,' says he. An' we've had no more talk of the hookworm in this house, m'm."

Can Fix That?

"Have you any aches or pains this morning?" Patient—"Yes, doctor; it hurts me to breathe; in fact, the only trouble now seems to be with my breath." Physician—"All right, I'll give you something that will soon stop that." Boston Globe.

Why did she leave home? Why did she prefer a waiter to her grandfather?

Roberta De Janon, the 17-year-old Philadelphia heiress.

Chicago, Ill.—The real explanation of the reasons which led Roberta De Janon to prefer the company of a hotel waiter to her friends and exile to a year at school may never be known. After studying the girl, it is evident that it was no whim of a spoiled child.

She says she is 17. Philadelphia dispatches say that she is younger but no matter what her age, Roberta De Janon is in her way quite as remarkable a specimen of youthful maturity and wisdom as the 12-year-old boy who recently discussed the fourth dimension before Harvard professors.

A child in years she is a woman otherwise. Her poise, her aplomb, her assertiveness, are not the ways of a spoiled child.

The whole burden of her pathetic story—and there is no pathos in her voice as she tells it merely a series of matter of fact statements—is that she wanted a friend or friends, some to love.

She stoutly defends Cohen and maintains he has constantly treated her as a father would his daughter. Cohen is now in Philadelphia awaiting trial. The young girl is with her grandfather.

Ozone for Purifying Water.

The value of ozone as a purifying agent for water is being recognized in many places. Its attack upon infectious life is akin to the process of combustion. Any well-constructed apparatus by which air charged with ozone may be made to traverse the water answers the purpose. Professor Super of Columbia University, has found that New York water is not only sterilized by the ozone treatment, but that unpleasant odors are removed. Prof. Goddard, of Glasgow, is quoted as saying that the use of ozone will render costly filtration plants virtually superfluous. At Baltimore an ozone plant, capable of treating 10,000,000 gallons daily, is about to be put in operation, and in Europe the method has been adopted at Nice, Brest, Chartres and elsewhere.

INTERESTING CHAT ON MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS IN GENERAL.

VAGABOND IS HEARD FROM

Would Insist That Property Owners Keep Their Walks Clean This Weather.

To the Editor:
I find that despite the fact the citizens of Janesville apparently know what they want and do not want when it comes to politics they fail to understand the law as it is laid down in the city charter about which there has been so much discussion. I therefore have no more to say on this subject.

In Chapter 4, Section 22 of the famous city charter is found the following interesting bit of information: "To compel all persons to remove the dirt, snow and ice from the sidewalks in front of the premises occupied or owned by them." This is extremely interesting reading to the persons who have been forced to clamber up hill and down dale, slip and slide on the walks even in the business district.

Another interesting bit of reading can be found in the chapter on city highways which is as follows: "It shall be the duty of the street commissioner to see that the sidewalks in said city are kept free from snow, ice and rubbish of all kinds, in all cases where the owners or occupants of abutting lots or parcels of land shall fail to do so, and the expense of clearing the sidewalk in front of any lot or parcel of land may be paid by the city, and such cost shall be a special tax against such lot or parcel of land in the same manner as is provided in the preceding subdivision and may be included in the sidewalk tax therein referred to."

By these two sections the citizen reader will see that there is a redress from the present conditions that exist in all parts of the city. How about the aldermen taking the matter in hand and looking up the matter and advising with the street commissioner regarding the matter. Is the way that same street commissioner is a pretty hard worked man just now. Aside from the fall of snow in the streets there has been added in the business section huge piles of snow and ice thrown from the roofs of business blocks the snow thrown out of the street cars tracks and this surplus makes it difficult to keep the gutters cleaned and ready for that time that is bound to come.

Perhaps one should not complain if all the walks are not cleaned as soon as it stops snowing but when some of them have not been touched with a snow shovel or a snow-plow all winter, merely beaten into Indian trails as it were, it is time something be done. It appears that in many cases the property-owner has been content to dig out a narrow path along the front of his property and then forget to make it any wider. In fact, these paths are so narrow that two persons can not pass.

They may be following the blindest direction about following the straight and narrow path but the average pedestrian would be mighty glad if they went a bit further and tried to follow out the teachings of the law and clean from curb to curb. It is a matter which is perhaps one to be thought of less more than anything else but still is a violation of the law. Even the city is prone to forget that it must take care of cross-walks and the walks about the city's parks are slippery with ice and snow, not being properly cleaned off.

Speaking about street cars reminds me to say that the local street car line deserves much credit for keeping their cars running despite almost impossible drifts and conditions. We may object to the present system as unsightly and unsanitary, a menace to health and limb, but still on a bad day it is a comfort to know it is running even if trains and interurbans are shut down and the city unattended as it were.

I am informed by a member of the council that the suit which was brought against the local street car line to compel it to either improve its service and cars and roadbed, which was continued several times at the request of the attorneys for the old company and the new owners, has not been dropped or lost sight of and is only held in abeyance as it were until it is seen what the new owners intend to do to better existing conditions. This is a good plan. Thus far nothing has been done and I am informed that the actual transfer of the property has not taken place. However, it may come shortly and then it would be a good thing to see what this change will bring. Meanwhile Superintendent Murphy is doing all that man can do to keep his line open and the cars running.

I dropped into a live-cont theatre the other evening and was so interested in the pictures shown there that I spent the evening in making a tour of the others of the same kind of amusement places and enjoyed myself hugely. In fact, I may be said to have become a "live-cont-theatrist." The pictures were good and clean and most interesting. I say this because I wish to call attention to another form of amusement which has been found in this city several times this fall and winter which is discussed in the Chicago Tribune this morning and other Chicago papers as well, I am told.

POLICE BAR BURLESQUE SHOWS

Waukegan's Chief Issues Order After the Production of "Moulin Rouge Girls."

Burlesque shows are barred in Waukegan, Ill. Police Chief R. J. Connelly has so ordered, and yesterday notified the management of the Moulin Rouge Theatre. The "Moulin Rouge Girls," which appeared at that place, caused the chief to act. He said that he would have stopped the last production if he had known the character of the play.

If it is not good enough for Waukegan it certainly is not good enough for Janesville in my opinion, and the mayor, city attorney and chief of police should do well to have a consultation on the matter before the same or other similar companies are permitted to appear in this city. This is merely food for a little bit of reflection.

At a recent Sunday evening sermon the minister spoke of the desolating necessity for every job, whether one had to or not, to learn how to cook, sew, mend and do general housework. It was a fine idea but it might also be a good feature to add to this advice that it should be the duty of every parent to know where their girls or boys are on these evening and breakfasting and see if they are on the streets parading up and down, the girls making eyes at the boys, and the boys talking to the girls. This is too prevalent in the city, it is sad to relate, particularly on Saturday night.

FARMERS IN COUNTY WERE SNOWED IN BY THE STORM

Roads and Cuts Have Been Filled So That Farmers Were Penned In for Two Days.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
South Macedonia, Jan. 17.—The recent snow-storm stopped all traffic on the roads from Thursday night Saturday. The postman has been unable to make all of his trips for three days and the farmers have been kept busy trying to get the roads in shape to be traveled. Some cuts are filled in from bank to bank and it has been a hard task for the farmers to get anywhere. Those who were lucky enough to have a good supply of groceries on hand have fared well while some have even been denied that commodity. Feed is going fast and promises to bring high prices in the spring to those who may be fortunate enough to have it to sell. A merry sleigh-ride of Fondville young people including the pastor of the M. E. church of that place, made a merry home party at the home of Wm. Hays a couple of days last week. They were returning from spending the evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Andrew and they were unable to get home for two days on account of the storm.

Mrs. Lottie Edwards and mother, and Howard Edwards spent Wednesday with Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Harper. George McCaslin spent Monday in Portville.

Frank Van Skike and boys spent Sunday at T. T. Harper's.

MUCH PAVING IS TO BE DONE IN BELOIT

Common Council of Line City Has Ordered Major Improvements in Public Highways.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Beloit, Wis., Jan. 19.—The common council Monday night ordered a large amount of paving, sewer and water mains laid. One of the most important of the street improvements was arranging for the paving of Prairie avenue from Grand avenue to Lawrence avenue, a distance of half a mile, and Pleasant street from Public avenue to Emerson street. The Pleasant street improvement will cost the college several thousand dollars. Numerous claims for rebate of taxes for charges made by wood commissioners were asked. It is evident that the commissioning of several mistakes in identifying property. Next summer will be a busy one for the municipality.

The sociology class of Beloit college took figures Sunday on the attendance at all the places of worship and reported that in the churches, Salvation Army, Y. M. C. A. and all organizations other than Catholic, there were 1,826 at the services. The two Catholic churches turned out to the number of 2,854, making a total attendance of 4,680. Prof. Chaplin's department often gives interesting figures of things and affairs in Beloit as the studies of social conditions come up.

STRENGTH.

Without Overloading The Stomach.

The business man, especially, needs food in the morning that will not over load the stomach, but give mental vigor for the day.
Much depends on the start a man gets each day, as to how he may expect to accomplish the work on hand. He can't be alert, with a heavy, fried-meat-and-potatoes breakfast requiring a lot of vital energy in digesting it.

A Calif. business man tried to find some food combination that would not over load the stomach in the morning, but that would produce energy.

He writes:
"For years I was unable to find a breakfast food that had nutrition enough to sustain a business man without overloading his stomach, causing indigestion and kindred ailments. Thinking a very busy and also a very nervous man I decided to give up breakfast altogether. But, luckily I was induced to try Grape-Nuts."

"Since that morning I have been a new man, can work without tiring, my head is clear and my nerves strong and quiet."

"I find four teaspoonfuls of Grape-Nuts with one of sugar and a small quantity of cold milk, make a delicious morning meal, which invigorates me for the day's business."

Read "The Little Book, 'The Road to Well-Being' in Piles, There's a Reason." Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

WASTE OF FUEL BY LARGE LOCOMOTIVES

New Means of Economy Being Closely Watched by the Railroads.

The man who buys his railroad ticket in the station, waits an hour or so during this remarkable era of delay, then steps on the warm and comfortable car and reads in his newspaper about the immense amount of coal consumed by the railroads every year, has a very slight idea of the manner in which the fuel is used and the many ways in which it is wasted by the railroads before they are able to place it in a position to bring them money.

The utilization of fuel in a locomotive is one of the greatest questions before the railroads of today and it is attracting more investigation and new fuel saving devices than any other department of a great railway system. To find some way in which the elasticity of the steam can be used, to prevent and postpone condensation as long as possible, to get every pound of steam out of the coal used is the ambition of the motive power official today.

There are many ways in which a locomotive wastes its fuel. In fact there are so many ways that the waste is about as prominent a feature as the strength. Every railroad is constantly making tests to determine the main source of the waste and some of the computations are interesting to the novice who only knows the railroad by the time card.

Very few people stop to think that every time a locomotive whistles it is wasting power, that every exhaust from the smokestack is pouring out millions of heated clinders and sparks, that the little leaks always apparent in the modern engine contribute to the mammoth losses, that the storing of fuel, the moving of the locomotive to the train, the backing of trains in or out of a station or siding, the popping off of the safety valve, the heating of the boiler while the engine is standing still, the incomplete combustion of gases, the heat and gases going out through the stack, the stopping of trains at crossings—that all these things cost the railroads a fortune.

The simple question of stopping at railroad crossings and whistling before going ahead means a mile of money and a mile of coal a year. This is one reason that so many railroads over the country are installing interlocking stations at their railroad crossings.

The loss of heat by the loading of hot clinders both through the stack and down through the grates is a question that will occupy the minds of many inventive geniuses before many years. It is estimated that over eight million tons of coal can be wasted by a locomotive through this source. This is also a matter that will make the railroads pay more attention to the daily work of the fireman. The skill in managing the fire in the fire-box means almost as much to the railroad along fuel lines as any other argument.

Some locomotive firemen are able to take a certain amount of coal at a coaling station and make it do the work and save the road a ton of coal on the run. The next fireman will shovel a ton more than his predecessor and still he will not be able to give out enough steam. The distributing of coal over the fire is a most important part of the management of the fire in a locomotive. Of course, the skill of an engineer in the use of his steam contributes heavily.

The greatest loss is always given to the firing up, switching and the leakage losses of a locomotive. This series is followed by the loss of heated gases discharged through the stack. Then the loss of clinders and sparks through the smokestack. These are followed in order by loss through radiation, leakage of steam and water; required to evaporate moisture contained by the coal; loss through the smokestack coal fuel in the ash; and the loss through incomplete combustion of gases.

It is with intense interest that the railroad officials over the country are watching the tests made by the new compound locomotives, also the smoke-box superheater and other like appliances for the more economical use of fuel.

REPUBLICAN PARTY DOING BEST IT CAN

Men's Club of Baptist Church Believes Leaders Are Striving to Carry Out Policy of Party.

The present administration was carrying out the policies and promises set forth at the presidential election as best it could under the circumstances was the decision of the members of the Men's club of the Baptist church at their January meeting last evening. The subject was quite freely discussed from both sides, for and against, and it was agreed that while a month ago considerable dissatisfaction was expressed, yet at the present time the people are beginning to see that the party, through its representatives, is doing what it can, and all that it can. The subject of the evening was: "Is the Present Administration Carrying Out Its Platform Promises?" Stanley G. Dunwiddie was leader of the meeting. J. H. Jones, whose topic was, "What Are These Promises?" outlined the platform of the republican party at the time of the election. O. L. Anthard expressed his opinion as to "What the Administration Has Done to Carry Them Out."

The subject, "The Outlook of the National Policy," was divided into two parts. L. H. Barker taking up "His Political Effect," and Dr. A. L. Burdick taking up "His Economical Effect." The program was followed by a general discussion, participated in by Rev. J. C. Hazen, E. C. Bailey, H. T. Crossman, F. P. Starr and others.

The meeting was preceded by a delicious supper served by the ladies of the King's Daughters' society. W. E. Clinton was elected to lead the next meeting in February.

Mr. Drake says that since the winter of 1881, when practically all of these birds were killed, efforts of game wardens have been directed toward re-establishing them in this part of the country. It is his belief that there will be enough quail in the spring for starting new coveys and he means to use every effort to have them fostered through the winter and to protect them from unskilled hunters in the spring.

HOUSE KILLS ROOSEVELT PLAN.

His Brussels Conference Were Appointed Without Authority.

Washington, Jan. 19.—After adopting the conference report on the Balfinger-McChesney inquiry resolution, the house devoted almost five hours to discussion of the urgent deficiency appropriation bill.

The session was enlivened by criticisms of former President Roosevelt by Representative Harrison and Fitzgerald of New York, the former denouncing him for appointing representatives to the third maritime conference to be held at Brussels next April without due authority of law, and the latter because of his alleged numerous violations of the civil service law.

Speaker Cannon officially ruled that President Roosevelt had acted without specific authority of law in appointing representatives to the conference at Brussels and the paragraph making in appropriation for the expenses of these representatives was stricken out of the bill.

Save Money—Read Advertisements.

Are All Advertised Medicines Fakes?

"As well ask 'Are all doctors quacks?' or 'Are all lawyers shysters?' We all know there are ignorant quacks; does that prevent anyone calling in his good, old family physician in case of need and trusting him? There are shysters, but there are also honorable lawyers to whom we confidently trust our lives and fortunes.

There are fake medicines advertised; but they are not fakes because they are advertised. A good thing is worth advertising; we all want to know about it. The more a bad thing is advertised, the worse for it in the end.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is no fake; yet it is advertised; it advertises itself; and those who have used it are its best advertisers, and that free of cost.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has proved its merit by more than thirty years general use. This simple, old-fashioned remedy, made from roots and herbs, has become the standard medicine for ailments peculiar to women,—its fame is world-wide.

Read this plain, honest statement of what the medicine did for one woman; her own words; if you doubt, write and ask her.

Upper Sandusky, Ohio.—"Three years ago I was not feeling well and could hardly drag myself along. I had such tired feelings, my back hurt, my sides ached, I had bladder troubles, was fully bad, and I could not eat or sleep. I had headaches, too, and became almost a nervous wreck. My doctor told me to go to a hospital. I did not like that idea very well, so when I saw your advertisement in a paper one day, I wrote you for advice. I have done as you told me. I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, Blood Purifier, and Liver Pills, and used the Sensitive Wash, and now I have my health. We keep your medicine always in the house."—Mrs. J. H. Stansbury, Route No. 6, Box 18, Upper Sandusky, Ohio.

The makers of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound have thousands of such letters—they tell the truth, else they could not have been obtained for love or money. This medicine is no stranger—it has stood the test of years.

For 30 years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills. No sick woman does justice to herself who will not try this famous medicine. Made exclusively from roots and herbs, and has thousands of cures to its credit.

If the slightest trouble appears which you do not understand, write to Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass., for her advice—it is free and always helpful.

THE FOURTH ESTATE

Novelized by
FREDERICK R. TOOMBS

From the Great Play of the Same Name by Joseph Medill Patterson and Harriet Ford.

Copyright, 1909, by Joseph Medill Patterson and Harriet Ford.

"Will you do what I ask?" who queried imperiously.

"I cannot," he answered simply. The judge's daughter tossed her head independently, caught her skirt in her hand, turned her back swiftly on Brand and walked indignantly from the room.

Wheeler Brand, dazed, heart sick and discouraged and torn by the emotions that welled within him, leaned helplessly against the desk. After all, he reasoned, what did it all matter? There were lots of evil men in the world, always had been, always would be. What harm would it do if one dishonest judge were allowed to go unmolested, even if he happened to be a United States judge? Surely there were other dishonest judges, and he could not drive all of them off the bench—no, indeed. And, moreover, this thoughtful task he had shouldered would if he succeeded rob him of the girl he loved. It would rob him of the love of the girl who loved him.

Then the thought of the enthusiasm that had buoyed him as he wrote the story that had exposed Judge Bartelmy came to him and clung to him. The inspiration in doing a wrong man's work for the public good had kindled the spirit of Wheeler Brand, captured his soul. The steady light burned once more in his eyes. He shook himself together—fastened his old time grip on himself. As for Judith, he would do his duty, and he would win her yet.

When the managing editor of the Advance re-entered his office and walked briskly toward his desk he found Wheeler Brand looking eagerly over a notebook which, quite unknown to McHenry, contained the data for an article on the Lansing Iron case even more damaging to Judge Bartelmy than the one already printed.

"Well, did you settle it?" asked McHenry.

Brand looked up and started toward the door.

"Yes, sir," he answered, and he was gone.

At this juncture Downs, the city editor, came into the managing editor's room. He addressed McHenry rapidly. "Water main burst on Morton street; drowned seven dago kids in the basement of a tenement; mothers, scrub-women, gone out to work and locked them in; water rising." He drew close to the desk. "Children, climbing stairs to escape, found huddled in each other's arms on top step, drowned! All but the youngest hanging on to a string of beads; must have died pray- ing!"

The managing editor's face immediately lightened, and he pounded his desk enthusiastically.

"Good! Good! By glory, that's a dandy! That saves our lives! Now we'll have a paper tomorrow! We'll go the limit on this. Did you send a photographer?"

"Yes, sir, I did."

McHenry seized the office telephone. "Night editor! Oh, hello! Cut three columns more out of those shavings. We've got a live one. Seven dago kids drowned. First time they ever saw water in their lives. Run three columns!" He hung up the receiver and turned to the city editor.

"Put in three leads and make it stick out like a sore thumb. And, say, put in a black faced bulletin saying the Advance will receive subscriptions for their families."

Durkin entered with a bundle of proofs.

"And, say, Downs," added McHenry, "print in bold faced type that the Advance will start the subscription with $100."

"Mr. Dupuy is downstairs," announced Durkin.

The managing editor could not suppress a sour expression which crept across his face. "Dupuy, eh?" he granted half audibly. "Wonder what

A WOMAN'S BACK.

The Aches and Pains Will Disappear if the Advice of This Janesville Citizen is Followed.

A woman's back has many aches and pains.

Most times 'tis the kidneys' fault. Backache is really kidney ache; That's why Doan's Kidney Pills cure it.

Many Janesville women know this. Read what one has to say about it. Mrs. B. F. Jones, 157 Western Ave., Janesville, Wis., says: "I found Doan's Kidney Pills to be a reliable remedy for backache and kidney trouble. I suffered from pains in my back for years and although I tried various remedies, I received no relief. I could not walk erect, and had a constant dull pain across my loins. If I sat for awhile I could scarcely get up and I did not rest well. I noticed Doan's Kidney Pills highly recommended and thinking they might benefit me, I procured a box at the People's Drug Co. They completely cured me in a short time. My back has been strong since then and my kidneys have been normal. Doan's Kidney Pills are worthy of all the praise I can give them."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Posters, Buffalo, N. Y., and New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

he wants around here now? He's a regular buttnski." McHenry knew Dupuy in a business way, knew he was counsel for several of the big mercantile establishments which advertised in the Advance and that the lawyer had represented various corporations at the state capital. "Well, I suppose I'll have to see him," he finally resolved. "Show Mr. Dupuy in," he called to the boy.

"Good evening," was Dupuy's greeting to McHenry as he entered and placed his overcoat on a chair.

"Good evening, Mr. Dupuy. What can I do for you?" The visitor seated himself at the right of McHenry's desk.

"McHenry," began Dupuy decidedly,

Mr. Dupuy was downstairs.

"Somebody on your paper has been making bad breaks lately, particularly the one this morning."

"What one this morning?"

"The Judge Bartelmy story, of course."

"Help!" sang out McHenry. "I've been getting that all day."

"It's no joke, McHenry," snapped Dupuy.

"It was a mistake," responded the managing editor.

"Mistake! Who was responsible for it?" leaning forward.

"Oh, it just slipped through in the rush."

"Tall talk to the man," retorted Dupuy sarcastically. He paused. "Who slipped it through?"

"There was another pause."

McHenry began to sweat himself.

"Excuse me, Dupuy," he asked pointedly. "But how does the Bartelmy story affect you?"

"Some of my clients have a very high regard for the judge. Your story grossly misrepresents him."

"Yes, I suppose so."

"This growing tendency to bring our judiciary into disrepute is a dangerous symptom of the unrest beneath the surface," spoke Dupuy pompously. "The federal bench is the ultimate bulwark."

McHenry laughed.

"Oh, capital in distress! Yes, I know all about that."

Dupuy stirred indignantly.

"There was no occasion for that remark," he shot forth tartly.

McHenry saw that Dupuy was very much in earnest, and the management of the Advance, as he had previously known it—representatives of an insurance company—would have desired to gratify the wishes of the powerful

"It's no joke, McHenry."

Interests behind Dupuy. So far as the now owner was concerned, the managing editor could not tell what his attitude would be in the matter, but he had received no instructions as yet to change the policy of the paper. Plainly the course of wisdom, he reasoned, would be to act toward Dupuy as he had acted in the past, when the insurance company had insisted that the paper be operated on a purely commercial basis. Yes, he would deal carefully with Dupuy—that is, with Dupuy's clients.

"No offense meant," explained McHenry. "Well, we'll have nothing more about Bartelmy. Will that satisfy your people?"

"Thank you, McHenry. That will be eminently satisfactory both to them and to me as their legal adviser."

"All right; that settles that."

"Oh, not quite!" said Dupuy, rising his hand warily. "There's the more point. Who was responsible for the story?"

"Oh, let's pass that!" But Dupuy could not be turned aside. McHenry had begun to give way to him, and the lawyer intended to follow up his advantage.

"Very well; it's up to you," he said. "But I want you to realize, whatever happens, there is no personal animosity in the matter."

"What do you mean by 'whatever happens'?" asked the managing editor quickly.

"The visitor was a living picture of complacency. 'How much advertising did you get from our concern last year?'"

"The managing editor began to discern more clearly the hidden club in Dupuy's words and demands. 'Oh, I can't say as to that.'"

"About $20,000 worth, wasn't it?" "Yes, I should think so," admitted McHenry.

"Well, there's the answer," exclaimed Dupuy triumphantly. "As a matter of business, McHenry, if you are not friendly to my clients, why, you can hardly expect them to be friendly to you, and I shall explain to the new proprietor of the Advance, Mr. Nolan, the reasons for the sudden drop in his advertising. He is a rich man, and he probably will not like to know that he is in the way of losing a good deal of money to further a radical propaganda which he probably abhors. Come, McHenry, for your own sake be reasonable. Who wrote the story? Surely you are not going to consider a mere reporter in a matter so vital to our interests. Who was it?"

McHenry surrendered. "A young fellow named Wheeler Brand."

Dupuy rose and towered above McHenry as he sat at his desk.

"I thought so. I only wanted to make sure," he said. "He's a dangerous type. Comes from good enough people, but ambitious to get into the limelight by stirring up the mob. Thought he might have learned sense by now, but it seems he hasn't. Guess he never will; these fanatics never do."

"We consider him the best investigator in town," warmly, in praise of Brand.

"He's entirely too zealous. Do you catch me?" asked Dupuy, leaning over McHenry and gazing significantly into his eyes.

The managing editor caught Dupuy's meaning and stared at him blankly in his surprise.

"You don't mean?"

Dupuy smiled coldly.

"Yes—I mean—get rid of him!"

AFRAID FOR HIS HAT. When the chilling winds are blowing And the weather's busy snowing, Just to hear a bad boy's shrilling As he paws his busy filling, With the snow and missiles making And a careful aim is taking, While his war cry echoes wild and glad, 'Tis a bad boy and another victim.

The Optimist's Corner Daily Helps to Health and Happiness

By GEORGE F. BUTLER, A. M., M. D.

In meeting the uncontrollable causes of disease the special influence of season deserves particular regard. It should always be remembered that, other things being equal, during winter the body loses, during summer, gains in weight. Further, these changes in many sections of the United States are abrupt. The loss commences, sharply in October, and lasts until April or May, and the gain commences in April and lasts until September or October. In the early fall, though the weather were to be warm, it is right to add to the clothing and to commence a little excess of food. In summer we should reduce the clothing and eat less food than in winter. We should provide against sudden changes of heat and cold. The primary care is to guard against sudden change of blood pressure from exposure to heat when the blood-vessels are weakened by cold. Such exposure is the cause of nearly all the colds, attacks of pneumonia, pleurisy, etc., which occur during the winter. You should maintain the body, at all hours and seasons, but especially during the hours of sleep, at an equable temperature. The temperature of 60 degrees Fahrenheit may be considered a standard.

To Prevent Contagion. To prevent contagion when a patient has diphtheria, scarlet fever or any of the dreaded diseases, take equal parts of turpentine and carbolic acid; put one-half teaspoonful at a time in a bottle of water kept near the boiling point. The odor gives relief to the patient and also prevents the spread of the malady if kept in the room.

Troublesome. There is nothing but trouble ahead of the woman who marries a man she can't love and the man who loves a woman he can't marry.
